It's the perfect time to set em up
Throw em back and get her gone
Left me here with nothing much
Nothing but some drinking songs
All I got is plenty time, sit me on a bar stool
Doesn't matter any kind of Bourbon with some cold brew
I got a plan and I pray it's gonna work
Pretty soon if I ain't drunk I'm gonna think about her
There's a lot I could've done guess I ruined everything
Tried to tell you I was sorry but I knew you wouldn't stay
So hey, bartender can you put me in the zone
Here's a twenty Mr. Taxi, can I catch a ride home
Need another shot of courage and a bottle to keep Face down, passed out, I'm finally getting some sleep

I might as well get drunk tonight
A few shots at the bar oughta do me just right
Enough beer to get you off my mind
I might as well get drunk tonight
Might as well get drunk tonight

Bartender, one more round
I'm gonna get drunk as a skunk and baby that's my mission
Gonna get on a Corona and practice fast repetition

And did I mention that I fixed in a few shots at the bar You know how I get when I get to drinking it hard Liquor called me the bigger quicker picker upper Jim Beam straight now I'm a bad mother trucker Yeah, I'm ten feet tall and bullet proof to some A modern day holiday when it comes to a gun One hell of a dancer and a smooth romancer I'll show you Casanova how to get all the answers Or at least I think I do in my intoxicated mind I think I miss her, let's forget her, just one more time

I might as well get drunk tonight
A few shots at the bar oughta do me just right
Enough beer to get you off my mind
I might as well get drunk tonight

I might as well get drunk tonight
A few shots at the bar oughta do me just right
Enough beer to get you off my mind
I might as well get drunk tonight
I might as well get drunk tonight
