

The Darkest Place I Know

The Leisure Society

And so we stare once more into the breach
Our faults we hide behind the calm relief
The signs were all there but I never saw them
Just kept moving with my arms up and my throat exposed
To the monsters ever looming
In the darkest place I know

We drift along in semi-conscious daze
A strange divide, a failure to relay
The nay-sayers file off into the distance
Leaving chaos and confusion on the hunting ground
Of the monsters ever looming
In the darkest place I know

And as we fall we trace a furrowed line
We come of age inside a fractured mind
The signs were all there but I never saw them
Just kept moving with my arms up and my throat exposed
To the monsters ever looming
In the darkest place I know
In the darkest place I know
