

Light and Love

The Lemon Twigs

You're my vision of the future
When I find that you're watching over me
I can taste you in the breezes that increases my love for you

You're my comfort in the winter
When my boredom becomes too much for me
I was lonely when I found you
Now I'm only a product of your grace

You're my deer inside the headlights
When I'm swerving and crash into a tree
I surrender, life is tender
And forever we bask in light and love
