

Resistance Is Futile

The Let Go

How many times can i lose
I got a long way to go, so do you
I can't afford a mistake
But never see things your way
You bury your best evidence under the basement floor
Can i shake this feeling, and keep my lips from sealing
Is it fate, anticipating

We can't go on with anymore of this
Cause we kept our honor and never clenched a fist
We can't go on

How does it look from your side
I'm dying to make out the left from the right

I can't escape this feeling
Keep my lips from sealing
Is it fate, anticipating

We can't go on with anymore of this
Cause we kept our honor and never clenched a fist
We need to move on
Exceeds desire to fix
We can't go on

Always on the edge this can't be right
Drink those bottles empty every night
The more you resist the more that it look i'm right

Tell me how many people can you fool
If you say it to yourself enough does it make it true?

We can't go on with anymore of this
Cause we kept our honor and never clenched a fist
We need to move on
Exceeds desire to fix
We can't go on
We can't go on
We can't go on
