

Tear You Apart

The Letter Black

You took a line on this fantasy
In your mind, the grass under your feet isn't very green
But over there, what is it you see
You think it's fine to leave the life you had and stop chasing

I could break all these chains away
They won't keep us apart anymore
I could break all this pain away
It won't tear you apart anymore

You're searching for something you don't have
Buy the lie that everything of yours isn't good enough
Lift your eyes up out of your grave
Don't look back, leave it all in there with the death it brings

I could break all these chains away
They won't keep us apart anymore
I could break all this pain away
It won't tear you apart anymore

You think your life could be better
Stop looking everywhere else
Start looking on the inside
Stop feeding on these lies!

I could break all these chains away
They won't keep us apart anymore
I could break all this pain away
It won't tear you apart anymore
