

No Barriers

The Levellers

A leap through the barriers, Looking for a place that feels brand new,
And making heavy weather, Questionable states of reality. Living through the chaos,
And the boredom too, And nothing's getting better

I need all that you can give To get me through And I'll turn round
And I'll give it right back to you I need all that you can do

Unnatural friend to routine, The sun rises each day at its chosen time,
So why be any different. Dare you reach into my world, Where the barriers are growing,
As far as I can see, I think they're getting taller

I need all that you can give To get me through And I'll turn round
And I'll give it right back to you I need all that you can do

I need all that you can give To get me through And I'll turn round
And I'll give it right back to you I need all that you can do
