

Hot Tubs Full of Brand New Fuel

The Locust

It's easy to replace in the name of progress
It's easy to replace in the name of progress
Wink wink, nudge nudge.

Obsolete fuel, so lobbyists pull an alternative mule
Insubordinate antique engine, spark superfluous discharges
Gaia is wounded, corny and spoon-fed
Groupthink banter resonates everywhere

Taxidermy, guilt ridden professors
Sneezing out all the answers
Do you want it sugarcoated?

Drunk cars in Brazil didn't have to foot the bill
The complaintiff states, "Not enough mistakes"

But it's OK, the EPA is a stepping stone
Before the end of Rome

It's easy to replace in the name of progress
Wink wink, nudge nudge.
