

I Was Made for You

The Mannhattans

If I was only made of wood
I wouldn't have these feelings
You'd say goodbye
And I would never know this pain
I'm going through
But I was made for you

If I was only made of sand
I'd drift through other lovers
And then with time
I'm sure that I could even be
As good as new
But I was made for you

I was made just for loving you
I was yours from the very start
Now you say that you're leaving me
And I'm falling apart

If I was only made of stone
Not flesh and blood, emotions
I'd watch you go
And never let you see you're breaking me in two
That's what I'd do
But I was made for you

I was made just for loving you
I was yours from the very start
Now you say that you're leaving me
And I'm falling apart

If I was only made of stone
Not flesh and blood, emotions
I'd watch you go
And never let you see you're breaking me in two
That's what I'd do
But I was made for you

For you
I was made for you
Just for loving you
I was made for you
