

I Think I Can Change You

The Marvelettes

I know you took Sue and you broke her heart
And you made her cry
You took Mary too and you broke her heart
When you said goodbye
My friends tell me through their experiences
I oughta learn

But I think I can change you
(I think I can change you)
(I think I can change you)
I hope my name is on your list
'Cause I'm standing in your line, uhuh
Waiting my turn

You don't get along with none of your girls
You always fuss and fight
No matter what the case, you'll always say the wrong
You always think you're right
When I see the things you do it makes me so mad
I almost start to burn

But I think I can change you
(I think I can change you)
(I think I can change you)
I hope my name is on your list
'Cause I'm standing in your line, uhuh
Waiting my turn

How many girls have you made cry?
There ain't no count to them
All those stars that are in the sky
Couldn't amount to them

You're mean and evil as you can be
They say you're sad in your way
But I just hope you'll get around to me
And I'll be one of these days
I may not be so wise but still from me
There is something you can learn

But I think I can change you
(I think I can change you)
(I think I can change you)
I hope my name is on your list
'Cause I'm standing in your line, uhuh
Waiting my turn
Don't you know that I
Just because
