

Ready To Take My Chances

The Oak Ridge Boys

I've been down the road of love so many times it scares me
But I guess I've always taken the wrong track
'Cause every time I gave my heart away it just got broken.
Love took me for a ride then circled back

But now I'm ready to take my chances
On falling in love with you,
Faith to give love one last final try.
Ready to be loved again, held in someone's arms.
Ready to take my chances with you tonight

I never knew that love for me could be so warm and tender
I never knew a kiss would mean this much
But here I am losing all control of my defenses
Completely I surrender to your touch