

And You Love Me

The Osmonds

You give your love
to me so tenderly
I feel what I like to feel,
I feel like me
In every way you're all that could ever be
And you love me

You softly fill the part of me once missing
And help me find what I had lost living You're at least a thousand years of wishing
And you love me

I could never live without your love,
your touch, your smile
You give me everything worthwhile
When I need to have you
near you're always there Giving for me is all you care
You're at least a thousand
years of wishing
And you love me

I could never live without your love,
your touch, your smile
You give me everything worthwhile
near you're always there
Giving for me is all you care
And you love me
Yes you love me
And you love me
