

Peace

The Osmonds

I hear the people asking where will it end
And when will man's fight ever cease
To me the it seems that the answer is love
For where there is love there is peace

In the beginning there was a garden
And everything within was filled with love
Nobody noticed they all were different
And life was gentle like a peaceful dove

There was no evil in the garden
Nobody had been taught to hate
So everyone was loving, just like the good book said
Too bad that it was lost
And we must stop making war and make

Peace, for every brother
Peace, for one another
Peace, enough for everyone
They say the word is love
If we just learn to love
For where there is love there is
Peace, throughout the land
Peace, for every man
Peace, come take my hand
Peace, where there is love there is peace

I saw a picture of the garden
Before the apple tasting had begun
There was a serpent, a lamb, some lions
And other beasts all laying down as one

We gotta get back to that garden
Together with forgotten friends
We gotta take the time to plant us a brand new seed
To make our garden grow, start again, make a friend
Only then will we have

Peace, for every brother
Peace, for one another
They say the word is love
If we just learn to love
For where there is love there is
Peace, throughout the land
Peace, for every man
Peace, come take my hand
Peace, where there is love there is peace

Don't put it off until tomorrow
Peace cannot wait another day
Spreadin' love and love each other
Until we get the world, each person, everyone
Every man, hand in hand, to make a stand for love and

Peace, for every brother

If we just learn to love
For where there is love there is
Peace, throughout the land
Peace, for every man
Peace, come take my hand
Peace, where there is love there is peace

Peace, peace, peace, oh I got to have it
If we just learn to love
For where there is love there is
Peace, every boy
Peace, every girl
Peace, all over the world
If we just learn to love
For where there is love there is
Peace
