

So Long

The Outlaws

Storm is over come with rage,
I slowly turned another page,
Deeper into love I seem to go.
The stories filled with scattered lies,
Broken hearts in paradise,
For the ending no one seems to know

[Chorus:]

But its been so long since I've held you
Close enough to me that I feel I've finally
Come to loose my heart,
And the nights are so long without you
That I find it hard to see, through the tears we cried
Long enough to find us here apart.

Midnight darkened sky reveals the way

The sunlight really feels.
Burning through the longest after noon,
Slowly passing time to man
All it seems that I can stand,
Silver wings cant get me there too soon.

[Chorus x2]

Storm is over come with rage,
I slowly turned another page,
Deeper into love I seem to go.
The stories filled with scattered lies,
Broken hearts in paradise,
For the ending no one seems to know

[Chorus]

So long, so long, yea its been so long,
