

Sol, The Conspirator

The Paramedic

Tear this place apart!

You thought you could hide the truth from them
Hollow words shroud your flaws
Little do they know
(Little did we know)
You were a worm
Without a cause.
But as we cast our pasts aside,
I see the fear within your eyes,
So who are we to judge the flames
Should they decide to swallow you alive?

The time has finally come
For us to take a stand
(Your cover's compromised,
At last the secret's out.)
With our lungs expanded,
Now we'll make them understand.
(It's due time that everyone know
What you're all about)

I can't deny
That I fell for every word you said (word you said)
But I've won this fight
(Won this fight, We've won this fight)
Cause I know I fill every thought in your head,
Oh yea.

God forbid you show some backbone,
You spineless fuck.
Bury the truth,
And I'll bury you.

Let these words,
Become a constant reminder
Of how you manipulate.
You breathe lies
To anyone who'll hear,
Even inventing false truths
To those you hold most dear.

I can't deny
That I fell for every word you said (word you said)
But I've won this fight
(Won this fight, we've won this fight)
Cause I know I fill every thought in your head.
Oh yea.

You won't live to see the light of day
I swear to God that I will make you pay
