The Paramedic

Downward they come in their slow decent. They are hiding the nature of their intent now!

Masking the nature of what's true. We've been transformed into something new. I can feel the beasts taking control, I will never succumb. They try to change me, rearrange me. What shall I become? Joining the ranks that have met their end, we all now leave our bodies as we transcend. We are the horrors that keep you awake at night. So we hunt for the thrill, and we live for the fight. I am no longer human. I won't conform. I am no longer human. I've been transformed. I can feel the beasts taking control. I will never succumb. They try to change me, rearrange me. What shall I become? Altering the masses, with such unbridled charm. This is only the beginning dear, so sound the alarm. We came to party, we don't give a fuck. I will never give a fuck. I am no longer human, I won't conform. I am no longer human
