

History

The Pipettes

See all of things that we were gonna do
They all seem to happen without you
And I went on livin' on and we're dancing so strong
To the beat in the club where the party's goin' on

All the questions that you asked while you're grooving too fast
Ahead of the time
So there's chances that you take and there's chances that you make up
In the end, you're just fine

It's just history, there's nothing left of you and me
It's just history and that's what it will always be
It's just history, there's nothing left of you and me
And no one needs to know that we've got nothing to show
Oh, oh

Stop, it's all over
Boy, don't want any of your toys, just stop that game
I'm not playing with your heart
But we could be the start to end all of your ways

All the questions that you asked
While you're grooving too fast
And now you're just part of everything

It's just history, there's nothing left of you and me
It's just history and that's what it will always be
It's just history, there's nothing left of you and me
And no one needs to know that we've got nothing to show

Really, boy, you're nothing to me
I'm just playin' games, now can't you see?
That time is goin' on and there's no place for you
'Cause it's happening, happening, happening to me

It's just history, there's nothing left of you and me
It's just history and that's what it will always be
It's just history, there's nothing left of you and me
And no one needs to know that we've got nothing to show

It's just history, there's nothing left of you and me
It's just history and that's what it will always be
It's just history, there's nothing left of you and me
And no one needs to know that we've got nothing to show
Oh, oh
