

One Too Many

The Proclaimers

I think I had one too many
I know I had one too many
I think I had one too many is all

I'm trying hard
But I can't remember, how I got home
Don't recall any streets I roamed
Can't remember at all

I think I had one too many
It must have been the one too many
I think I had one too many is all

To my disgrace
All I recall is my daddy's face
And how I wished
That I could see him again

I think I had one too many
I know I had one too many
I think I had one too many is all

To my disgrace
All I recall is my daddy's face
And how I wished
That I could see him again

I think I had one too many
I know I had one too many
I think I had one too many is all
I think I had one too many is all, is all
