

Three More Days

The Proclaimers

Three more days and then I'll see
The people who depend on me
Three more days and I'm home
Not long now till I step inside
The place where we all reside
Three more days and I'm home.

And life's rolled on and on
The whole time I've been gone
I walked around today feeling right
I dreamed about each one of them last night
Three more days and I'm home.

And life's rolled on and on
The whole time I've been gone
When I close my eyes I can see
The faces of my family
Three more days and I'm home.

Everything that I hold dear
Lies five thousand miles from here
Three more days and I'm home,
Three more days and I'm home,
home.
