

Seven seas alone

The Quakes

When you're riding on the seven seas
And things start to get rough
You'll walk the plank at sunrise
They're gonna call your bluff
Stowed away on a pirate ship
And now we're lost at sea
You'll walk the plank at sunrise
I hope they don't catch me

We sail these seven seas tonight
With no place to call our home
We are the angels of the night
We sail these seven seas alone

When you're riding on the seven seas
The four winds start to blow
They'll change your destination
Your fat eye you will not know
Stowed away on a pirate ship
And now we're lost at sea
You'll walk the plank at sunrise
I hope they don't catch me

We sail these seven seas tonight
With no place to call our home
We are the angels of the night
We sail these seven seas alone

Whatever happens is still better than the world you left behind

We sail these seven seas tonight
With no place to call our home
We are the angels of the night
We sail these seven seas alone
