Will You Stand

The Red Jumpsuit Apparatus

(You must stand, you must be strong)
If your heart isn't ready then you will fall
(You must stand, you must be strong)
If your heart isn't ready then you will fall
(You must stand, you must be strong)
If your heart isn't ready then you will fall
(You must stand, you must be strong)

When will you say?

Take off the mask, let me see your face There's nowhere to hide, and no one to blame And though you claim to be Innocent the truth remains that you are from You are wrong

When will you say?

(You must stand, you must be strong)
If your heart isn't ready then you will fall
(You must stand, you must be strong)
If your heart isn't ready then you will fall
(You must stand, you must be strong)
If your heart isn't ready then you will fall
(You must stand, you must be strong)

When will you say?

Try not to laugh, when I start to say You can blame it on me if it makes you sane And though you claim to be Innocent the truth remains that you are from You are wrong

When will you say?

(You must stand, you must be strong)
If your heart isn't ready then you will fall
(You must stand, you must be strong)
If your heart isn't ready then you will fall
(You must stand, you must be strong)
If your heart isn't ready then you will fall
(You must stand, you must be strong)

When will you say?

When you be strong... (Our world will fall) When you be strong... (Our world will fall)

And though you claim to be Innocent the truth remains that you are from You are wrong

When will you say?

(You must stand, you must be strong.)

(You must stand, you must be strong) If your heart isn't ready then you will fall