

I'll Come Callin'

The Rembrandts

I can hear the church bells ring, from your garden wall
Will you come away with me or leave me here to fall?
I have travelled more than miles-crossed a great divide
Though we may be worlds apart, you're always by my side
By my side

So lay down your head and dream of me
When the autumn leaves are fallin'
And when you awake, you'll find me there
By the river, I'll come callin'

I'll come callin'
You've been kept behind a wall-oh, so dark and grey
They can't build one high enough, to keep my love away
Love away

I'll come callin'... I'll come callin'

By the river, I'll come callin'
Know I will... yes I will... know I will... yes I will Know I will... yes I will