Maybe Tomorrow

The Rembrandts

I tried to win your heart That's when I lost my head I should have saved up all of my feelings But I squandered them instead

And in one fragile moment I could almost see Just how things might have changed for better I guess what is, was meant to be

Now I know, it's gonna take some time to let you go, oh

Maybe tomorrow, my heart will mend Maybe tomorrow, we'll be friends Maybe tomorrow, who's to say? But tonight, it seems like tomorrow, is so far away, oh yeah

Tell me what can I do To fill the space that once held you? I see your face in every corner, hear your voice in every room And I know this feeling is the ghost of all our tears Will you be hauntin' me forever and ever?

I know I don't think that I can let you go, no

Maybe tomorrow, my heart will mend Maybe tomorrow, we'll be friends Maybe tomorrow, who's to say? But tonight, it seems like tomorrow is so far away, hey

What am I gonna do without you, baby Since you've been gone? Ooh

Maybe tomorrow, my heart will mend Maybe tomorrow, we'll be friends Maybe tomorrow, who's to say? But tonight, it seems like tomorrow, is so far away, yeah

Maybe tomorrow Maybe tomorrow Maybe tomorrow, who's to say? Hey! But tonight, it seems like tomorrow is so far away

Oh no, there's just no way that I can let you go, no
