A Tormented Soul

The Sins of Thy Beloved

My own little world i hide away i feel no pain i hide away never to talk and never to walk no more

This is my fate this is my choise i have ruined your life never to talk and never to walk no more

I've played like a fool this is my life i take it all back never to talk and never to walk no more

I vanish through the night i travel throught my life i am sinking in the earth never to talk and never to walk no more in the shadows of a tormented soul there conceals a murky threshold eldritch phantasm reveals the yearning for infinitude invades

My beloved tremble in fear my detest against thee who's a plaguer

Finally there is peace in thine soul my resurge will reveal ye fate in the misty twilight i appear invisible i conquer

Solely i fade with the winter solely i reveal my secrets infinitude i conceal in thy phantasm infinitude my phantasm is of thee in my grandeur i proceed my voyage in my grandeur my resurge is of thee my resurge will sway throught dimentions my resurge will reflect thine demeanour
