

Everything Changes

The Smithereens

Listen to me, everything will work out fine
There's a time in your life when you're losing your mind
Just come with me something different this time.

I don't want to know where you intend to go
Everything changes, but nothing is stronger than love.

Listen to me, everybody wins some day
And in time you will find every dog has his day
Nothing should matter or stand in your way.

I don't want to know where you intend to go
Everything changes, but nothing is stronger than love.

Everything changes, but nothing is stronger than love.
