

My Oblivion

The Sorrow

I remember
The last time I saw your face
And I surrendered
To the warmth of your embrace

This memory's not forgotten
Until the end of days
Your shadow still walks with me
There's no escape

And still I find you in my dreams
You'll always be a part of me

Take me away from my oblivion
I'm so afraid of what I have become
Because of me I'm on my way into the undertow

This memory's not forgotten

Until the end of days your
Your shadow still walks with me
And there is no escape

Take me away from your Oblivion
I'm so afraid of what I have become
Because of me I'm on my way into the undertow

And at the end of the day I see the light again
There will always be a tomorrow
