

Peace And Hate

The Submarines

behind the sweet
summer fade
and on a coast
not far away.

sometimes we glide
sometimes we fall
and there are times we dont get up at all.

you had your doubts
we had our rows
said our goodbyes but now were taking vows

behind the sweet
summer fade
youll knock me down like a tidal wave.

i should be gone
cast away
but still id love you
through all peace and hate

in light of all
darkest things
the fire glimmers and the darkness sings....

if you should go
i wont have you to blame for my unhappiness for darker days when will i learn
its not your fault
breaking down could not be cured by breaking up.

i should be gone
cast away....

forever more
peace and hate
love and war
declare a new state....

yell and shout and kick me out then forget what we fought about but dont give up
these storms are passing
