

Feet First

The Swellers

Watching the waves crashing beneath me
Blue and silver, chaotic and serene
And I can't describe the view from up here
Because maybe I won't be able to tell you what I see
Don't waste your tears on me

Don't stop, now
Just carry on, carry on, carry on

You always said that things were gonna get better
But maybe the fog holds answers I can't reach
And I can't decide if I'll ever shake this Because maybe I... wait, nevermind
Don't tell me how to live
It's just water under the bridge

Don't stop, now
Just carry on, carry on, carry on
Don't stop, now
Just carry on, carry on, carry on
And you'll never know how bad it feels right now

Twenty-one years now in the making
Mom and Dad, you didn't waste your time
Because even the greatest architects
Masterpiece can be torn to the ground
But I'm still around
And you would build a ship
Or pack my parachute in time
For the fall
Yeah, this is love by all means
And I'll continue building with you

Don't stop, now
Just carry on, carry on, carry on
Don't stop, now
Just carry on, carry on, carry on
And you'll know how bad it feels right now
But at least you know that it won't end
Yeah!

But at least you know that it won't end
