

Car Crash

The Tiger Lillies

Goodbye, English Rose

You hit that concrete pillar hard
You knew you could not win
And shards of glass have pierced
Your organs and your skin
Your arteries, your arteries,
your arteries were slashed
Well I suppose we've all got to die sometime
You died in a car crash

Well, you took that concrete pillar
And it has bashed you in
You took that corner far too fast
Your chances they were slim
Your arteries, your arteries,
your arteries were slashed
Well I suppose we've all got to die sometime
You died in a car crash

Well, they rushed you off to hospital
And turned off the machine
But all what was left was to notify
Your royal next of kin
Your arteries, your arteries,
your arteries were slashed
Well I suppose we've all got to die sometime
You died in a car crash
The car crash
The car crash
The car crash
Crash
Crash
Crash
Crash
A car crash
