

Devil's Child

The Tiger Lillies

A Sailor came to town a little seaside town he courted there a country girl to her heart he had found When she in love gave him her body and her limbs he took her avariciously when he performed the sin The sailor left the town left her in grief unbound nine months went by in labour then a baby boy was found They say the sailor was the devil in disguise he cast a spell on the young girl seduced her with his lies They say he was his spawn the devils so deformed no mercy for the mother then a devils child still born The mother took her child with anguish crazed was she and threw herself along with child into the raging sea