

Logic in this world

The Tiger Lillies

There's logic in this world
There's logic in this world
There's logic in this world
There's logic in this world

It's not the same as yours
The bad are the good people good thieves and whores
What you regard as chaos is all ordered here
What you regard as normal here is thought as queer

There's logic in this world
There's logic in this world
There's logic in this world
There's logic in this world

Everything is opposite to what it does seem Everything that's dirty hear it is clean
For here it is simply the world upside down
Your logic hear all of it drowns

There's logic in this world
There's logic in this world
There's logic in this world
There's logic in this world

The actions which appear in your world to all be mad
In this world are all logical rational not bad
So throw away your prejudice what is sane and good Then this world that you see can then be understood

There's logic in this world
There's logic in this world
There's logic in this world
There's logic in this world

So rather than on water choke
See clearly that this is God's little joke
When God is feeling a little bit bored
He turns us upside down the skies now the floor

There's logic in this world
There's logic in this world
There's logic in this world
There's logic in this world

And twice upside down is back up the right way Except what's the wrong

and the right whoes to say So a few times a day or a week month or year Everything is rational turns suddenly queer

There's logic in this world
There's logic in this world
There's logic in this world
There's logic in this world

How long this lasts of course noone can say Perhaps for an eon a year or a day
But one things for certain one thing is sure
The world upside down will always endure

There's logic in this world
There's logic in this world
There's logic in this world
There's logic in this world

There's logic in this world
There's logic in this world
There's logic in this world
There's logic in this world

There's logic in this world
There's logic in this world
There's logic in this world
There's logic in this world
