

Bachelor Mother

The Turtles

She was a little too young
To have done what she done
And a little too old for dancin'
But with stars in her eyes
She went out with the guy
Just to have a little fun
She got more than she bargained for
You'll find baby, one day two
Who's the other half of the bundle of joy?
I leave that up to you

Hey, bachelor mother
You played for your supper
Just meet me at midnight at the usual place
And I'll make love to you

So I met her last night
With the stars in my eyes
Thought that I had nothin' to lose
You know that love is a ball
And it's easy to fall
If you drop the ball too soon
Well, I got more than I bargained for
And love I can't refuse
Who's the other half of the bundle of joy?
I leave that up to you

Hey, bachelor mother
You played for your supper
Just meet me at midnight at the usual place
And I'll make love to you

Hey, bachelor mother
You played for your supper
Just meet me at midnight at the usual place
And I'll make love to you

Hey, bachelor mother
You played for your supper
Just meet me at midnight at the usual place
And I'll make love to you
And I'll make love to you
And I'll make love to you