

Give Love a Trial

The Turtles

Uncertain shadows surround
All the joys you've found
Don't take a walk
Down slivers of thought
Come stand by my side
Show me a smile
And give love, give love a trial

The night with its splintered moon
Lies waiting at the door to your room
The sun's gone away
We live without day
So let's go outside
We don't have to hide
Just give love, give love a trial

The world is a hall of mirrors
Projecting a thousand terrors
But see through the glass
And we'll walk in the grass
So let's go outside
We don't have to hide
Just give love, give love a trial

And now, that you've broken the spell
We're back on the ghost that fell
Fragments from the past
Are a bunched shadow mass
Come stand by my side
Show me a smile
And give love, give love a trial
And give love, give love a trial