Waste Away

The Watchmen

After all the cards you're sending me So what's your name you've got a couple Eleven languages for all to see But can you run free with your friends like me I feel so sorry oh so sorry for your kind We're all together all together cool in your mind Misdirects befriends a nicest kind Stick my face in boiling water What's in your annex boy will it conquer us But can you run free from your demons like me I feel so sorry oh so sorry for your kind We're all together all together made up in your mind Don't let me waste away
