

I'm burning down the bridges that I cross
Before I ever reach the land
I'm breaking down, I'm breaking down
So careful now don't make a move
Careful now to breathe over the sound
I'm breaking down, I'm breaking now
In the time it takes to make a scene
I'm jumping off the ledge of everything
Well I'm falling down, I'm falling now
I trust in you
Your gravity will speak to me
And bring me to my knees
I'm breaking now

Am I brave enough to conquer love?
But you've given me some hope
To write a song and keep it close
So I'm calling out
Just to hear the simple sound
Of your voice and keep it close

I know that I'm a gamble here
But with your help I'm conquering my fear
Of ever breaking down
When breaking down is all that I can do
I'll scream "glory come"
And I will sing of you
Singing hall-e-lu
It happens all the time
You turn water into wine
Water to wine

Come on! woo
So I'm shaking like a leaf
You keep coming after me
So as long as I can breathe
I'm gonna have to sing
