

World of a Thousand Dreams

The Whispers

Something inside has taken place
My heart is melting to your embrace
My unlucky days are over
You are my four-leaf clover
These are the golden days I know
Your love has come to me
I'm living in a world of a thousand dreams
World of a thousand dreams
World of a thousand dreams
(I'm living in a world of a thousand dreams)

Running through sand in the ocean breeze
Carving our names on willow trees
Looking at you in my arms
Is like watch a flower blossom in the sun
Everything seems so magnified
Since you have come to me
You bring to me a world of a thousand dreams
World of a thousand dreams
World of a thousand dreams

World of a thousand dreams
World of a thousand dreams
World of a thousand dreams
World of a thousand dreams...
