

Four

The Wrecks

You get so quiet
You shy away when I tell you I love you, why?
Why don't you riot
Why don't you rage cause there's no one you can't set on fire

So break your silence
I might not like it
But I'll still be the dog at your door
Just give me something
Something to work with
I don't know how you work anymore

So

Either these walls can shake
Or my heart can break
Into four
One piece wrapped to go
One for me alone
And two in case
You come home

The words we don't say
The fuck yous and love yous
They never quite seem to escape

So break your silence
I might not like it
But I'll still be the dog at your door
Just give me something
Something to work with
I don't know how you work anymore

So

Either these walls can shake
Or my heart can break
Into four
One piece wrapped to go
One for me alone
And two in case
You come home

Is there another?
A better lover?
Does he taste every word on your lips

So maybe these walls should shake
Maybe my heart should break
Into four
One piece wrapped to go
One for me alone
And two in case
You come home
