

No More Disguise

Thievery Corporation

open my eyes sitting alone, waiting for love to walk in the door could we let go of all our fears?
would you take me through all your dreams?
with silver drums marching away never in time(?)

im lost in the sky we've left long ago with no reprise and now we've moved on the world is an illusion of dreams we're playing roles in silent movies why do we hide? nothing is real and you'll dissappear

dancing away like golden stars up above□
