

All the Souls

Third Eye Blind

I've been hiding out
In a city landscape
I met a frontier girl
With a firm handshake
And she said, boy, don't let me down

She said all the souls that came before
Caught their justice from the ground
So you and I can't give it up
You and I can't give it up now
Standing your ground

Oh, and the camera on your cellphone screen
You miss everything
Did you ever feel the pull of the cotton wool
She said, boy, don't let me down

She said all the souls that came before
Caught their justice from the ground
So you and I can't give it up
You and I can't give it up now
And all the souls that came before

Caught their justice from the ground
So you can I can't give it up
You and I can't give it up now
Standing your ground
Standing your ground
Standing your ground

All the souls that came before
Caught their justice from the ground
So you and I can't give it up
You and I can't give it up now
Standing your ground

All the souls that came before
Caught their justice from the ground
So you and I can't give it up
You and I can't give it up now
Standing your ground
Standing your ground
Standing your ground
Standing your ground