

Cop vs. Phone Girl

Third Eye Blind

Shakara showed up to class
She pulled out her mobile phone
It's the one thing that she owns to keep her no
She's an orphan now
She just moved to a foster home
That phone keeps her connected
She's gonna keep that shit protected
The teacher said get out of the class
Come on can I stay?
To his shame, he said the calls been made
I hear footsteps sounding eager
Of a cop that's about to beat her

Now I am all...
I am all for the good fight
And if the cops roll by
Throw a peace sign
Say hey baby have a good night
I am all for the good fight
And if the cops roll by
Let the colors go blind
Say hey the kids
Hey hey the kids are alright

Officers slam came and threw
Shakara backwards against the wall
I mean he flipped her just like a rag doll and broke her arm
Tossed her across that room
Face down on the deck
He puts his hands around a 16 year old girls neck

Now I am all...
I am all for the good fight
And if the cops roll by
Throw a peace sign
Say hey baby have a good night
I am all for the good fight
And if the cops roll by
Let the colors go blind
Say hey the kids
Hey hey the kids are alright, ooooh
All the kids are alright, ooooh
All the kids are alright

It's alot to take in...
I'll keep it simple, here

And on the classroom floor...
There's a little blood splatter
Why's it so hard to say Black Lives Matter?
Doesn't mean that you're anti-white
Take it from me, I'm super fucking white
And on the tele, hey that's Niya Kenny
On The Kelly File, saying Fox News Corps is proud of you
You're the girl that stood back to a brutal attack
Come do a victory lap, come get a clap on the back
Hey I fooled you, that never really happened

I mean come on, could you imagine? Come on
So I take it in my hands
I talk about this shit in my rock band
And I got black fans, and I got fans with sun tans
And we all have the same demands

Say I am all...
I am all for the good fight
And if the cops roll by
Throw a peace sign
Say hey baby have a good night
I am all for the good fight
And if the cops roll by
Let the colors go blind
Say hey the kids
Hey hey the kids are alright, ooooo, whoooo
All the kids are alright, ooooo
All the kids are alright
