

Isn't It Pretty

Third Eye Blind

It was funny
Funny cause it's hopeless
She's fall down drunk on a Thursday
Pushes her laundry home in a cart like she's homeless
She says I'm still so shady
Were you a princess bag lady
And I lose my thoughts
It's not my fault they make drinks here with six fucking shots

It's so strange
It doesn't seem so strange
It's been seven months
And we're still twin flames
And I moved on
Still she's brimming with charm
That perfect skin touched my arm
The kind that can win you
The kind that singe you

We bumped shoulders in the bar and the sparks still there
She said you could have me now
If you cared enough I dare you
I know that I still scare you
You and me can make the future grow
Isn't it pretty to think so
Isn't it pretty to think so

Said lately I'm doing fine
I'm on the mend
But every time I hurt again
Cause the truth is that I miss you every day
Sound of your voice, the way you sleep
And your heart and how deep it beats
When you hold me than I think I'm getting played

We bumped shoulders in the bar and the sparks still there
She said you could have me now
If you cared enough I dare you
I know that I still scare you
You and me can make the future grow
Isn't it pretty to think so
Isn't it pretty to think so

I'm on that road for a month of shows
That's when I miss her, that's when our distance grows 600 miles away from the night we were before
I remember we were trying for something more

Flight arrivals, SFO
Are the loneliest place I know
And she's back with that bar keep
And I just want to sleep and watch Netflix
In my big ass house
Creeping on what I can't fix
And now there's someone new Hammered into real
Fades out how I feel

Not mangled, not triangled
No it's time to let it go

Isn't it pretty to think so
Isn't it pretty to think so
(No it's time to let it go)
You and me can make the future grow
Isn't it pretty to think so
Isn't it pretty to think so

Big black glasses and a baby glow
Life is ours at the after show
Watch it grow, watch it grow
Isn't it pretty to think so
