

Let's Be Honest

This Beautiful Republic

I sing because I don't know what to do
It's taken me a long time, to find that life is passing by

I lift my hands, I'm so desperate to feel Him
So let's be honest, without Him life just passes by

Slow down, we're slowly dying
But we can live again
Be lifted up in Him

I'm dead because I want to live in Jesus
But one day I will rise up
I'll try to show you who He is

Slow down, we're slowly dying
But we can live again
Be lifted up in Him

His blood flows down to cause my innocence
It comes from innocence, and it carries on to me
And it flows down to cause my innocence
Because He's innocent, He gave himself for me, for me...

Slow down, we're slowly dying
But we can live again
Be lifted up in Him
