

All I Need to Know

Thousand Foot Krutch

you could read a million pages, know the words and all the phrases.

You could try to turn a lie into the truth.

You can live to be a hundred, memorizing every number.

You could even put a man on the moon.

And the science of the heart is sometimes lost on me.

But I'm following this feeling!

I don't know why, it's so hard to swallow our pride!

And I don't know how many wrongs make a right.

I don't know the reason.

Sometimes it just feels so good to cry!

And I don't know which way the wind will blow.

But you're here with me.

And that's all I need to know!

There's a moment in the morning, when I feel the most alone

But then I hear your voice, whispering my name.

It's like a wave of understanding and I never could have planned it

When the questions and doubts all fade away.

I don't know why, it's so hard to swallow our pride!

And I don't know how many wrongs make a right.

I don't know the reason.

Sometimes it just feels so good to cry!

And I don't know which way the wind will blow.

But you're here with me.

And that's all I need to know!

That's all I need to know!

I figured it out, you turned me around at the speed of light.

All that I ever needed to know was in your eyes.

I don't know why, it's so hard to swallow our pride.

And I never count all the stars in the sky.

I don't know the reason.

Sometimes it just feels so good to cry!

And I don't know which way the wind will blow.

But you're here with me.

And that's all I need to know!

That's all I need to know!

That's all I need to know!

All I need to know!
