Once again these bitter herbs Perfect complement to all your cryptic words Nod but don't know what to say I know you and I believe you're who you say you are So I, I will follow you Lay down my life I would die for you This very night Once again the bread and wine But it seems the meanings may be deeper still this time You surprised me when you said I'd fall away Don't you know me? I could never be ashamed of you I, I will follow you Lay down my life I would die for you This very night I've never been this cold The fire's gravity compels Like planets cling to soul I feel my orbit start to fail Like moths to flame I come Too close and all my oaths are burned As stars begin to run All my accusers take their turn And calling curses down From my lips lies like poison spill And then that awful sound The sound of prophesy fulfilled And then I met your eyes And I remember everything And something in me dies The night that I betrayed my king
