

Lost Continent

Thrice

Was there a time that we know peace;
when all the children had a place to sleep when rhetoric was not enough?

Was there a time we weren't at war
When we knew what our hearts and hands were for?
I don't believe there ever was.

[Chorus:]
it's always been a lie, a soothing lullaby we'll soon be swallowed by sea

Was there a time we looked around, and do we really even want to know what's going down Well i think no one really does

Wed rather close our eyes sing soothing lullabies
We'll soon be swallowed the sea

The water's rising now and we will surely drown
if we don't turn around
