

The Sky is Falling

Thrice

It's coming down
These clouds could never save us
From such a juggernaut of weight
Your dance and jingle cabaret
It's coming down
The shadow's forming on the pavement
We face a watershed of hate
Just miles apart the world's away

The sky is falling
And no one will live the last sea
The sky is falling
And no one will care as long as it lands over seas

It's coming down
This ship could never save me
My family floats sudden death
If we could leave, we would have left
It's coming down
My little girl is just a baby
And I'm scared that she wont make her teens
My fear just fuels the hate machine

The sky is falling
And no one will live the last sea
The sky is falling
And no one will care as long as it lands over seas

I'm going to be strong enough
And not let my fear decide my fate
Surrounded by dream goers
I don't want any part of this

I want to be strong enough
To not let my terror turn to hate
Surrounded by dream goers
I don't want any part of this
