

His Blood, My Hands

Throw The Fight

The stars are shining
As I drive myself to your front door
Can't get there fast enough
I hit the gas and wipe my eyes

I hold the letter in my hand
That you had sent to me
I read the words that say
"I'm moving on you smothered me"

I want my payback
I want his blood on my hands
Never forgot that you left with my heart

My tires leave the road
As I race just to know
You're lying next to him

As the crimson falls
I turn and walk away
I walk away
I walk away
As his shadow calls
I turn to you and say
Just walk away
Just walk away

I hit the brakes and pull up to the house
That's when I see
His car is parked outside
I grab my knife and grab my keys
I walk into the door
Climb the stairs
I want to scream
But I stand silently
Watching as your fucking him

I want my payback
I want his blood on my hands
Never forgot that you left with my heart

I lost all control
Drive the knife in his throat
Watch him as he slips away

As the crimson falls
I turn and walk away
I walk away
I walk away
As his shadow calls
I turn to you and say
Just walk away
Just walk away

I am feeling like I've lost control
I am feeling like I'm on my own

I drag you to the car
Kicking and screaming his name
I wipe the blood off your lips
Wipe it all away
I barely see the signs
I brake too late
My world comes crashing
Crashing down

As the crimson falls
I turn and walk away
I walk away
I walk away
As his shadow calls
I turn to you and say
Just walk away
