

Our Horizons

Throw The Fight

Less is what I felt on that day
We all won't look and mascara began to fade
Loose this all to find your fate, loose it all and be too late
Cry your eyes out, nothing more
She died, but what for?

And so, through all these die or tries how could I possibly help?

Could you please breathe
There's no sleeping
Now I guess I'll just wait for this
Could you please breathe
There's no sleeping
Now I guess I'll just wait for this

No horizons left for us to see
I'm so glad it's still because the silence comforts me
Everything that was said I know that you resent
And now that you left, I think it's for the best

And so, through all these die or tries how could I possibly help?

Could you please breathe
There's no sleeping
Now I guess I'll just wait for this
Could you please breathe
There's no sleeping
Now I guess I'll just wait for, for this

And now there's no horizons
The silence comforts me
And now there's no horizons
The silence comforts me

Could you please breathe
There's no sleeping
Now I guess I'll just wait for this
Could you please breathe
There's no sleeping
Wait for this
