Throwdown

The life I knew is but a memory, a better time corroded by a ha rsh reality What have we let ourselves become? A mercenary culture doomed to burn So tell me what it's gonna be when fire lights your city's stre ets Fight or die It's your only choice to survive Fight or die When fear and chaos collide What the fuck has this world come to? I just don't know What the fuck are you gonna do when the lights go black? Your rights are under siege, under attack And soon you'll pay the price for your complacence with your li fe Fight or die It's your only choice to survive Fight or die When fear and chaos collide What the fuck has the world come to? I just don't know What the fuck are you gonna do when lights go black? It's time we fired back Fight or die It's your only choice to survive Fight or die When fear and chaos collide Fight or die
