

Intolerance

Throwdown

I scraped you and that ignorance from underneath my heel
I treaded on the ashes of your faith
I cleaned your blood and vanity from sharpened steel
I cut a path through you and walked away

Devastation, the blessed end of you
Smash your arrogance with ire
Burn before the fire of my intolerance
Burn in the fire of my intolerance

The fire of my intolerance for your depravity burns unrelenting in my veins
This is how I abide your kind and your degeneration... With devastation the blessed end of you
Smash your attitude with ire
Burn before the fire of my intolerance

Smash your arrogance with ire
Burn before the fire of my intolerance
Burn in the fire of my intolerance