

The Moment Of Truth

Thunder

I spent a long time thinking about what you meant to me
And I've decided I was wrong
I fooled myself, thinking it was how it's supposed to be I should've known it all along Now I don't want to fight about it no more
It was all so clear to me, when I walked out the door

Loving you is like fire, but I'm tired of getting burned
It's been a long time coming baby, but the tables just got turned Cause you swallowed up my soul
and you wasted all my youth
The time has come to face it, it's the moment of truth...

I'm amazed I let you do the things you did to me
But they say that love is blind
Now my ball and chain has melted away and I feel 10feet tall today Cause I've stolen back my mind, oh baby
I should've realised it years before But now my satisfaction's guaranteed without you that's for sure

Loving you is like fire, but I'm tired of getting burned
It's been a long time coming baby,
but the tables just got turned
Cause you swallowed up my soul
and you wasted all my youth
The time has come to face it, it's the moment of truth...

I've waited a lifetime
But I'm finally on the track
Out of the dark to the sunshine
And I ain't going back...

Loving you is like fire, but I'm tired of getting burned
It's been a long time coming baby,
but the tables just got turned
Cause you swallowed up my soul
and you wasted all my youth
The time has come to face it, it's the moment of truth...
